

Article II

Section I:

- ❖ The power shall be vested in the president of the United States.
- ❖ He shall be in office for 4 years.
- ❖ The president is able to force the country's laws and administer to the country's public policies.
- ❖ Presidents are elected by the people.
- ❖ The presidency is a paid position.
- ❖ Must be born in the United States and must be of the age of 35.
- ❖ Presidential elections are held the Tuesday following the first Monday of November.
- ❖ Vice president takes over if the President passes away, resigns, or can no longer perform the tasks/duties.

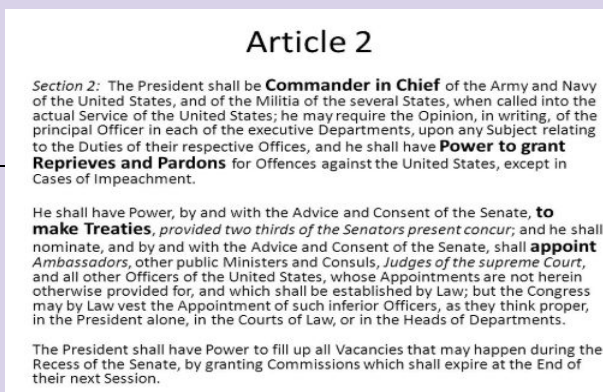

Section II:

- ❖ This part of the constitution talks about how the President should have power by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, he can make Treaties, and can appoint ambassadors.
- ❖ Also this is the section of the constitution that makes the executive branch of the government.

2

1

2

Section III:

- ❖ The president is required to report to the Congress on “the state of the Union”.
- ❖ The president can call Congress into special session when it's out on recess if he thinks there is urgent business the Congress needs to deal with.
- ❖ The president has to grant commissions to all military officers of the United States.
- ❖ The president has to "faithfully execute" the laws of the United States.

Section IV:

- ❖ The President and the Vice-President will be impeached if they commit a crime like treason, bribery, or a higher crime.

